Office Action Summary	Application No. 10/035,921	Applicant(s) KUMAR ET AL.
	Examiner John Van Bramer	Art Unit 3622

-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 05 October 2007.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL.                      2b) ☒ This action is non-final.

DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on October 5, 2007 has been entered.

Response to Amendment

2. The amendment filed on October 5, 2007 cancelled claims 5, 12, and 19. Claims 1, 8, and 15 were amended and new Claims 22-24 were added. Thus, the currently pending claims are Claims 1-4, 6-11, 13-18, and 20-24.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

3. The amendment filed on October 5, 2007 corrected the 35 USC 101 deficiencies identified in the Office Actions dated September 22, 2006 and April 6, 2007. Thus the 35 USC 101 rejections of Claims 8-14 is hereby withdrawn.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1, 6, 8, 13, 15, 20, and 22-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hite et al. (U.S. Patent Number: 5,774,170).

Claims 1, 8, and 15: Hite discloses a media and advertisement player, a method of manufacturing a media and advertisement player, and a method of playing media and advertisements and reporting the playing of the media and advertisements to a remote system respectively, each comprising:

- a. A media player that receives media from a remote system via said computer network and plays said media in response to customer requests, wherein said media is selected from the group consisting of audio music, music videos, and skins. (Col 1, lines 6-10; Col 5, lines 28-60; and Col 14, lines 59-65)
- b. An advertisement player that receives advertisements and a corresponding advertising schedule from said remote system via said computer network and plays said advertisements according to said advertising schedule, said advertising schedule being dependent upon a play of a content of said media. (Col 6, line 10 through Col 7, line 14)
- c. A tracking subsystem that generates as-run logs containing records of a playing of contents of said media and said advertisements and transmits said as-run logs to said remote system via said computer network. (Col 4, line 62 through Col 5, line 27)

Claims 6, 13, and 20: Hite discloses the media and advertisement player, the method of manufacturing a media and advertisement player, and the method of playing media and advertisements and reporting the playing of the media and advertisements to a remote system as recited in claims 1, 8 and 15 respectively, further comprising a personal computer, said media and said advertisements being stored on a hard disk drive of said personal computer. (Col 6, line 60 through Col 7, line 14)

Claim 22: Hite discloses the media and advertisement player of claim 1, wherein said advertising schedule being dependent upon plays of selected content of said media further comprises said advertising schedule being based on a selection of content a first media but not from a selection of content of a second media. (Col 4, line 25 through Col 5, line 27)

Claim 23: Hite discloses the media and advertisement player of claim 1, wherein said advertising schedule is based on said given advertisement and its proximity to a content of said particular media being played. (Col 4, line 25 through Col 5, line 27)

Claim 24: Hite discloses the media and advertisement player of claim 1, wherein said advertising schedule is based on at least one aspect selected from the group consisting of: a geographic location of said media player and said advertisement

player, an establishment type in which said media player and advertisement player are located, a demographic of establishment in which said media and said advertisement player is located, a time of day, a date, a day of a week, a month of a year, and a season of a year. (Col 3, line 65 through Col 4, line 11; and Col 8, lines 18-39)

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 2-4, 7, 9-11, 14, 16-18, and 21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hite et al. (U.S. Patent Number: 5,774,170) in view of Noll et al. (PGPUB: US 2002/0054087 A1).

Claims 2, 9, and 16: Hite discloses the media and advertisement player, the method of manufacturing a media and advertisement player, and the method of playing media and advertisements and reporting the playing of the media and advertisements to a remote system as recited in claims 1, 8 and 15 respectively. While Hite does not specifically state that there is a graphical user interface that is part of the display, Hite does disclose in Col 4, lines 52-61 that some user interactions with the display are tracked, therefore the user must be able to interact with the display in some manner. The analogous art of Noll discloses client software on the user machine that generates a graphical user interface (Paragraph [0007]). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use a graphical user interface as the mechanism for initiating the user interactions disclosed by Hite. The rationale for using a graphical user interface is that it is one of a limited number of predictable methods for providing the organized, consistent and efficient display of interactive data to a user.

Claims 3, 10, and 17: Hite and Noll disclose the media and advertisement player, the method of manufacturing a media and advertisement player, and the method of playing media and advertisements and reporting the playing of the media and advertisements to a remote system as recited in claims 2, 9 and 16 respectively, wherein said graphical user interface has a skin that is received from said remote system via said computer network. (Noll: Paragraphs [0007]; and [0042])

Claims 4, 11, and 18: Hite and Noll disclose the media and advertisement player, the method of manufacturing a media and advertisement player, and the method of playing media and advertisements and reporting the playing of the media and advertisements to a remote system as recited in claims 2, 9 and 16 respectively, wherein said display is touch-sensitive. (Noll: Paragraph [0050])

Claims 7, 14, and 21: Hite discloses the media and advertisement player, the method of manufacturing a media and advertisement player, and the method of playing media and advertisements and reporting the playing of the media and advertisements to a remote system as recited in claims 1, 8 and 15 respectively. While Hite discloses that the data is transmitted to the display site via electrical means, Hite does not specifically state that the transmission occurs over the Internet. However, the analogous art of Noll discloses the transmission of commercials and other broadband data via the Internet (Noll: Paragraph [0007]). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the inventions was made to use the internet as a transmission medium. The rationale for using the Internet is that the Internet is one of a limited number of predictable mediums with which electronic data can be conveyed to a user.

Response to Arguments

8. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-4, 6-11, 13-18, and 20-24 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

9. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to John Van Bramer whose telephone number is
